1 updated norms; correct?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. So based on the new norms, what is the absolute
4 recidivism rate for a score of three or four?

5 A. I don't remember because I didn't think it was
6 relevant.

7 Q. The Static-99 is used -- is the most widely used
8 instrument to assess sexual recidivism risk in the world,
9 isn't it?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. And especially in North America; correct?

12 A. Well, probably, but I think it's used pretty widely
13 in England and Europe as well.

14 Q. It has the largest sample of people, doesn't it?

15 A. Yes. It predicts recidivism, I believe -- at least 16 ranking of recidivism -- well. And it's very useful in
17 initial SVP evaluations. I use it in initial SVP
18 evaluations. It is never claimed to measure changes in 19 treatment.

20 Q. I understand that. However, the Static-99 is
21 appropriate for use to assess the risk, sexual recidivism
22 risk, of a person as they reach the point where they are
23 about to leave custody; correct?

24 A. Well, I think I went into that. Yes and no. I --
25 generally it will not affect changes in treatment.
